SHEDDING TIME

Sorry this issue is a bit late - bit busy lately. The All British has been and gone, Trevor reckoning it was a great success. We'll probably have some photos next issue, and also some from Joe and the Bathurst rally.

Brian's video list is in this issue. Since no-one has a VCR any more (except some tragics ...) Shane is going to convert them to DVD format, but as you can see from the list, this could be his retirement job.

Jim screened a set of Youtube videos on BSAs at the last meeting which was entertaining. This may become an occasional post-meeting show as there are LOTS of short films on the Web.

And a BIG reminder (which you will get as a separate personal email) to all those unfinancial for 2019, this COULD be your last Banter. See below for instructions. If unsure as to your status, just text me or send an email and I can check the database.

Walcha (Potential) 2022 BSA National Rally Site

It was decided, after much discussion and deliberation, to conduct a Club visit to Walcha on the 29th March thru 31st March to see, first hand, if the area had potential as our National Rally site in 2022. A valiant band of Club members being, Trevor H, Shane P, Jim F, Steve A, Victor T and Peter W volunteered (read coerced/pressured) to venture forth to the wilds of Walcha.

Now, this was to be a Club nominated run for BSA bikes for the weekend of fun and frolics, but, always the big BUT, the ONLY riders were Steve A and Shane P! However, both these 'lonely' riders were actually on (God forbid) Triumphs!! Steve rode his new acquisition, a 2014 T100 Bonny while Shane rode, well, his block of flats with enough luggage space to pack supplies for a full battalion of infantry!! But they did ride, which was a plus as the other 4 of us hung our heads in shame, sort of!

The rest of the motley crew piled into Peter W's four door, four wheel transport out of Homebush and had to suffer comfy leather seating, climate control aircon, stereo system, power everything, free fuel and a non paid chauffeur! It was tough, but they survived the ordeal! Not sure how much conversation Steve and Shane had on their trip, but the car people had some interesting topics of discussion raised by Vic for over 5 hours. And don't mention where in the State the best coffee is served (free, to pensioners)! Mmmm, Trevor's favourite food spot....NOT!!

Anyways, we arrived late(ish) Friday afternoon and the accommodation in Walcha was good and nobody suffered physical harm sharing the rooms, apart from some damaged ear drums. Late night breathing exercises I think?

Saturday morning was scheduled as a run over a 'possible' Rally run down Thunderbolts Way to Topdale Road, across to Nowendoc Road, through to Dungowan, onto Nundle Road then through to the Oxley Highway just north of Tamworth. But as the day looked like rain, we decided to leave Trevor behind (OK, he volunteered) and the other five (5) large(ish) gents piled into the car for the run. Yep, all so squeezey in the back seat! After 15 mins on the road, the sun came out, blue skies and no, I was NOT going back for the bikes! Put up or shup up was the answer to Steve's constant 'are we there yet!' The actual roads were quite good, testing, but good. However, one section on the Nowendoc Road was a hand hewed pass down a steep grade with very tight turns, minimal sight lines and lots of leaf litter. Probably quite fine on a dry day but any rain and it could be very slippery with some impressive drops on one side.

Biggest issue we could see was that the ride was a bit long with best guesses being, with some of the slower bikes, it could be up to a five (5) or six (6) hour return ride. In addition, there were no good rest stops (trees not counted). Also finding a local school or anything, anywhere in fact, to have morning tea and lunch was a problem. Not insurmountable, but a big issue.

Another problem was that a lot of the roads that we looked at for possible ride routes, were unpaved and not just short sections, but the full length of the road. Like, I am fairly sure that most would not like 45 mins to an hour at a time on rough dirt/gravel roads. I could be wrong, but last time I looked there were only a few B44s and B50s attending the Rallies!

Next on the agenda was to check out the local Walcha caravan park. The people whom we met there were a young couple and had some impressive plans for the park and it was a very nice caravan park. But, not quite what the attendees at a BSA Rally look for, in general (man, I have to be careful here!). The caravan park had some space available with cabins and sites, but only one (1) shower block with only three (3) shower stalls in the men's and women's areas. Not really enough to meet the demands of the Rally numbers. Plus there was a security boom gate with keyed access, again, not quite what we wanted. Additionally, when we advised the numbers that 'could' attend the Rally and that we sort of expected people to wander in to look at bikes and we like a 'revolving' door type access, it was hinted that we would have to book the WHOLE caravan park for the three (3) days at a rate we just could not justify.

OK, that night over dinner and a few quiet ales (Steve excluded from the 'few' comment), it was decided that while Walcha was a very nice place and the rides into Walcha from the coast are good, the overall site for what we, as the BSA Club, wanted, just did not suit. Not sure Neil (the other Northy guy, apart from Steve) may have some things to say about these comments as he has attended the Walcha Challenge Rally and thought it quite good. But us blow ins only had a couple of days to suss out the area.

So all, we are now looking at alternative sites in the northern area and Tamworth was mentioned, but again, a lot of the roads in the area do tend to be unsealed gravel. Another possibility would be the site of the recent Tamworth Rally at Hallidays Point, just north of Forster.

Some good rides around the area, close to beaches etc for those coming with family for more than just a three-day rally. Plus the caravan park was quite good with a large undercover eating area for whatever.

So people, we are planning another run north, after mid-September, to check out some more likely rally sites and we are very open to (polite) suggestions. This 2022 rally will rock'n'roll around real fast so we cannot be complacent about the planning. We really need to have the site set by the end of 2019, no later!!

Please everyone, thinking caps on for site suggestions (go north, young man, not south) so you get the gist of where we need to be!!

All the very best,
Peter W.

P.S. – Anyone got a spare A10 motor looking for a home (don't ask!).
